“Over the decades I've supported the Mission I've watched and been continually impressed by the care, thought, research, strategy and yes, love, that shapes the ongoing evolution and delivery of the Mission's service to Wellington. Especially the results. The changed lives.

...I'd like the remainder of our resources to do some good. To me it's logical to leave some of them to the Mission in my will. I am certain they will be put to good use. ”

Legacies change lives

“Trudy, The Mission, and everyone who supports them are just amazing. It really is true that showing you care for someone who is struggling can make all the difference.”

Rhonda & Timothy

Before coming to The Mission, Rhonda and her son Timothy had been through some tough years. After splitting from Timothy's dad, Rhonda really struggled, and she went into a downward spiral.

She was diagnosed with multiple mental health issues and was losing control of their home life. Timothy was unhappy at school as well. She was scared for their future, and wanted the best for her son, so she reached out for help to transform their lives.

We were able to aid Rhonda by:

Connecting with our Social Worker

Trudy our social worker made Rhonda feel cared for.

Aided in Housing

Trudy helped upgrade her damp rental with thermal curtains, lowering the power bill.

Received WINZ & Financial mentoring

Trudy helped her get the correct entitlement through WINZ and learned financial management skills.

Supported with essentials

Rhonda and Timothy were given food, clothes & toys.

“I've always had barely enough to survive, so The Mission's support with food parcels, clothing, and toys relieved a tonne of worry. Trudy also supported us to build a good relationship with Timothy's school and has helped get him the learning supports he needs. This year has been much better – he's actually enjoying it!”

Rhonda still has challenges to overcome, but she has the confidence to face them, and has regained control of her family's day-to-day life. You can walk alongside parents like Rhonda, to give our next generation the best start in life.

Why a will is important?

Having a will is one of the most important steps you can take to protect your loved ones and make sure your wishes are carried out.

Only 51% of New Zealanders have a will.

Without a will, the process will take nearly twice as long and your estate is divided according to the law, which may not reflect what you want and can create stress, delays, and extra costs for your whānau.

A will gives you the chance to decide who inherits your assets, appoint guardians for children, support charities or causes you care about, and leave clear instructions for your future. It provides peace of mind both for you, and for the people you leave behind.

A will can be a gift not just for charities but for others and to your loved ones.
